5 June Lunch Discussion

Microsoft's Executive Briefing Center for European Innovation in Brussels is once again opening its doors to a lively debate on the future of innovation in Europe. We expect over 200 people from across Europe to attend, including venture capitalists, high-growth entrepreneurs, and policy makers from Brussels and beyond. Come to hear about new initiatives that enable new innovative technologies to be born from advanced investment schemes and technology transfers and to meet over 50 high-growth entrepreneurs, who will be presenting tomorrow's technology innovations.
